AeroVents.com Accepts Events for 2003

Grapevine, TX – December 4, 2002 – AeroVents.com, a web site dedicated to increasing awareness and interest in the field of aviation, announces it is accepting event information for the 2003 season.

The mission of AeroVents.com is to 'spread the word' about events to the aviation enthusiast and professional, as well as to the general public. The all-inclusive site lists a vast array of events from conventions, space launches, seminars, model rocketry and aircraft, ballooning, skydiving, educational programs, plane pulls, open houses, air shows, fly-ins and anything in between.

The site has listed over 4000 worldwide events for two years running.

Any person or organization can submit events to be posted. It is important to note that there is no charge to add an event to the site. To announce your event or to view upcoming events in your area, visit the web site. In addition to viewing the events online, a weekly e-mail service, E-Vents on the Fly is available to subscribers.

AeroVents.com is located in Grapevine, Texas. The company specializes in computer information solutions for aviation related companies. For additional information visit their Web site at <http://AeroVents.com> or call 817-571-5987.
